

“Educating Palestine: Teaching and Learning History under the Mandate” Registration Required:

Yoni Furas is a scholar of modern Middle Eastern and Palestinian history, interested in the history of late Ottoman and mandate Palestine, the sociology of Arab knowledge and cultural aspects of the Palestinian-Zionist conflict. His first book, Write Down! We are a Nation. A Political Biography of Musa Kazim al-Husayni was published in Hebrew in 2017. His second book Educating Palestine (2020), is based on his PhD which he wrote at the University of Oxford.

Suzanne Schneider is Deputy Director and Core Faculty at the Brooklyn Institute for Social Research, specializing in political theory and history of the modern Middle East. She is the author of Mandatory Separation: Religion, Education, and Mass Politics in Palestine, and her writing has appeared in Mother Jones, The Washington Post, and Foreign Policy, among other outlets. Her most recent book, The Apocalypse and the End of History: Modern Jihad and the Crisis of Liberalism, will be published by Verso in September 2021.